SUISAG AI-Station in Knutwil

SWISS LARGE WHITE

The calm and pleasent sow

Special strengths of the Swiss Large White sow

- Excellently fitted for free farrowing pens
- Calm, pleasent and suitable for groups
- Optimum litter size
- Very good mother abilities, low piglet losses
- All boars and sows are E. coli F18 resistant with more pigs being also E. coli F4 resistant
- Excellent teats, robust legs
- Inherits very good finisher performance to their piglets
- Long-lived with good lifetime performance
- The perfect partner for Swiss Landrace to produce F1 gilts

Balanced genetic gain through modern and consistent breeding work

- Very large breeding population in Switzerland
- 8'000 herdbook sows, of which 2'000 are nucleus breeding sows
- 20'000 new litters per year serve as data basis for the daily breeding value estimation
- New AI boars from elite matings and central boar test-station of SUISAG
- Selection based on genomically optimised breeding values
- Selected for E. coli resistance
